

Quantitative results of the meta–analyses are fully described

All tools used for the review are mentioned

Statistical models are described

Effect sizes of individual studies are presented

Studies are weighted according to their accuracy

The dataset is available

Method of data extraction is described

Confidence intervals of individual studies are mentioned